

The Sarcoma UK Support Line is here for anyone affected by sarcoma

Sarcoma is an uncommon cancer and many patients and families find it difficult to get access to reliable information and the right support. We can change that.

About Our Service

-  Our Support Line is confidential. It is run by our two Sarcoma Specialist Nurses, and our Support Line Advisors, all of whom are qualified Health Care Professionals.
-  We believe no question is a silly question. You can ask all the questions you need answers to. Whether it's about diagnosis, treatment, or care, we don't mind what the question is. If we are not sure of the answer ourselves, we will find out and get back to you.
-  We lend a listening ear. You can just ring to talk through what is happening with you. There are no time limits to the call, we want to offer an empathetic listening ear. The service is open to anyone affected by sarcoma, including patients, families, friends and health professionals.
-  We can point you in the right direction. We can help you understand what might happen at a next appointment, or come up with some suggestions for questions to ask the doctors. We are also able to explain how and where you should be referred for specialist advice and care.

Sarcoma UK is a national charity that is part of a caring community of patients, carers, health professionals and researchers. We want you to feel a part of that community, to feel that you have access to other patients going through a similar journey. We can put you in touch with others in local sarcoma support groups or in online support groups.

If you don't want to say who you are or feel more comfortable emailing your questions, we understand. We aim to answer all our email questions in 48 hours and we can signpost you to information online.

If you call out of hours, or the line is busy, leave a message and we will aim to get back to you within 48 hours. You can also text us, and we'll aim to answer your text as soon as we are able to do so.
